Punk rock band from Shawinigan (Quebec, Canada) founded in 2022. Raw energy and powerful lyrics captivate audiences at every concert. To our influences from the punk scene of the 90s and 2000s, we add an aggressive and catchy touch, leaving room for metal and alternative notes. On stage, the energy is palpable and at its peak. Don't miss our upcoming live shows—the sound experience is simply unmissable.

ONDES CHOCS

The song “Don't Walk Away” has so much power live that it's probably the one that benefits most from being heard in a concert hall. Hugues gives a superb performance, elevating it to its full potential. For Twenty-Five Sixty, challenges make them hungry for music, audiences, and touring. Trigger, with its video, is well known to us and is very well done. If you're a fan of Quebec punk rock and you haven't heard of Twenty-five Sixty, I'm sorry to say that you've been kidnapped and transported to another dimension in 2024. We've heard them all over the province with an impressive number of performances.

Éloquence Art

Offering punk rock with some thrash-inspired riffs, their sound is interesting. Honestly, if you want to support the emerging punk scene, I highly recommend this band. A band from Mauritius, Twenty Five Sixty opens the show tonight for their debut in Trois-Rivières. Julien Gagnon only has to ask once for people to gather around him, and the evening is already in full swing, without losing any speed or enthusiasm. They play a lively American West Coast style of punk rock.

SKRUTT MAGAZINE

I find that there is a lot of attitude in this band's songs. All ten songs are of the same high standard, and Twenty Five Sixty is a band I really like. It would be a shame if this band didn't become more widely known, so I hope everyone will take the opportunity to listen to their fast-paced punk rock, which may not be pure punk, but draws inspiration from many high-quality musical styles, with punk as its foundation.
